IV. Shoreline Nursing Program Updates

1. Nursing Program Brochure – Updated in August 2013
The requirement that stated that we wouldn’t accept online science courses has been deleted. If they are common course numbers, we must accept according to the SBCTC. Because they have the same course numbers, we may not even know if the course was online- not evident on transcript. Labs are required but the WAC doesn’t state that it can’t be an online lab.

b) Budget Update - Gillian Lewis

- As anticipated no budget cuts – it is quite noticeable that on campus, programs are waiting for new faculty and budget funds.
- Funding from the Margaret Svec Estate is allocated specifically for professional development for nursing faculty. This provides many opportunities that they might not be able to attend and is very much appreciated.
- Student success breakfast is being held Wednesday, November 6, 2013 at SCC – a nursing student will be one of the speakers at this event.
- The online website Educating Nurses.com with Dr. Benner- looking at contracting for faculty access.
- A CE Program on “Item-Writing and Critical Thinking” will be provided by Academic Consulting Group/Elsevier Publishing for nursing faculty on March 7, 2014.

c) Program Evaluations

1) National League for Nursing Accreditation Commission (NLNAC)

- Name changed to Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN)
- Lynn attended the ACEN Director Orientation meeting on June 29, 2014 in Atlanta. Working to update the Systematic Evaluation Plan with the 2014 standards.

2) NCLEX results

- 96.88% this past year
- One person has not successfully passed this test

3) Graduate Survey results

- Post-Graduate surveys are sent out six (6) months after graduation from the program – at this time we still have some coming in from our last group. Data will be evaluated.
- The next survey will be going out in early December
- Most respondents indicate that they are well prepared for clinical practice.

4) Employer Evaluations

- At the same time that the Post-Graduate Survey is emailed, we send the Employer Survey link (from Survey Monkey) to the graduate to forward to their employers for feedback that is essential to Program Evaluation and ACEN accreditation. The next Employer Survey will be sent in December. Most come back with positive feedback but if there are any issues, employers should let us know so we can continue to improve working with our clinical sites.

- Discussion: Follow-up with employers was unexpected. New nurses (graduates of program) need to let employers know that this survey will be coming.

d. Curriculum Revision

1) Philosophy/Mission/Core Values

- The Fall 2013 Nursing Faculty Retreat focused on incorporating Quality and Safety for Education in Nursing (QSEN) into the curriculum. Corki and Lynn attended QSEN Conference in Atlanta in May. Faculty revised the nursing philosophy/mission/core values to be congruent with QSEN and the college core themes. The new core values are Caring, Professionalism, Clinical Reasoning, and Excellence. These were approved at recent faculty meeting.

2) QSEN Outcomes

- 6 QSEN outcomes will be used as the program outcomes and curriculum threads—Patient-Centered Care, Evidenced-Based Practice, Informatics, Safety, Collaboration and Teamwork, and Quality Improvement. Threads need to be visible throughout the curriculum and the program. We don’t anticipate that content will change much since we continuously update to current practice.

OPEN COMMENT PERIOD:

- 360 evaluation model being looked at for Swedish.
- At the October CNEWS meetings, Deans/Directors discussed creating the same employer evaluation survey for all schools and a consistent process with the hope that the response rate will improve.
- King County Nurses Association (KCNA) is providing the Fall Summit CE program on de-escalation on Saturday, November 23. They will also be preparing cold kits at this event for the homeless community. This is open to nursing students as well as faculty.
- Question on competencies at the state level for nursing educators has been discussed at the Consortium.
- Also same standards for nurses across the nation. Safety and quality are what is missing most. Starting to see changes with new graduates who are learning to integrate into new groups. They are also learning to integrate standards of practice better. Discussion about professionalism.
- Lynn will post blank poster and ask students to answer the question, “What is professionalism?”
- Lori Stephens passed exam for Certified Nurse Educator. Four more faculty members are working on this certification.
- Swedish is working with Mary Baroni on shared leadership. Working to get new graduates involved in shared leadership.
The 6th quarter Leadership/Management class has incorporated a simulation where students working with the NAC. They practice the role, how to delegate, how to deal with inappropriate behavior in a positive manner.

Shoreline Community College would like to be a site for UW Bothell RNB program since the Mt. Vernon location has closed.

Shoreline continues to work with the Simulation Lab at Northwest Hospital. Students participate in simulations every quarter. Exciting opportunities for nursing.

Nursing Commission is working on Rules for foreign educated nurses (FEN). The Commission has approved a student to participate in our 5th quarter at this time to complete the OB theory and clinical practicum that was deficient from her education. She is an FEN with a BSN from Australia. If successful, she will be allowed to take NCLEX-PN because she is still deficient in Pediatric nursing which we are not able to provide since this is throughout our curriculum and not a stand-alone course. Members are encourage to review the WACS and provide input to the Nursing Commission to help change the WACs and facilitate FENs getting licensed in Washington.

Fikru Diru (Interim Dean of Workforce)

- The skills gap is very abundant across all committees. 60,000 jobs across state unfilled during recession due to not having qualified employees. There is a gap between education and graduates being ready and prepared for the open jobs. The nursing faculty knows what the industry needs and are preparing students to be ready for these positions. This is a team effort between community participants and the college and program.

- CNAs are being hired before completion of program due to the high level of standards for students. We will keep improving with the input of the community.

Student Input

- Marcus Engley—having a sticky wall available adds to the dynamic of making it easier to become a part of the team when discussing the curriculum.

VI. Next Meeting

The next Nursing Advisory Committee meeting will be on April 29, 2014 from 11:30-1:00 pm at Shoreline Community College in the Board Room. The meeting adjourned at 1:05 pm.

Respectfully Submitted,

Sharon Lowenborg
